

Student responses to the Horticulture task

What scientific learning are students likely to take away from this task?

What difficulties might they have with a) the experiment and b) the reporting?

What might students learn from the video?

How well will this activity work for students in terms of bringing the world of into the classroom? Why?